WHAT

World Premiere play The Girl Who Made the Milky Way by June Carryl. Inspired by a Khoisan myth, this play follows Little Sister - a young South African girl - as she evolves from struggling with her place and duties among her people to embracing her uniqueness, voice, courage, and identity. Supported by a cast of archetypal characters from the African savanna, Little Sister braves the dangers of her land and confronts the unfair expectations the world has of her because she is a girl. Not only does she help find her father and the lost things by creating the stars of the night skies, but she also discovers her true self.

COST

$10 per student/educator/chaperone. Includes: performance, post-show Q&A with cast on location or in class, and educational packets for educators. If a student purchases a ticket, but misses the field trip, Imagine Theatre will honor his/her ticket at another performance & gift one free ticket to that student's parent/guardian. For details, write to smat@imaginetheatreca.org.

WHO WE ARE

Founded in 2016, Imagine Theatre is committed to producing diverse and memorable theatrical experiences for kids. Armed with its mission to build an empathetic and inclusive society, across cultures, by immersing young people in theatre that celebrates gender equity, diversity and civic engagement, its founders Armina LaManna (Artistic Director) and Alex Zonin (Board Chairman) joined forces to research and create a flagship professional theatre for young audiences in Los Angeles. Unlike most major cities in the United States, until the founding of Imagine Theatre, the entertainment capital of the world did not have an Equity theatre dedicated entirely to programming for young audiences.

“Children around the world, and in other metropolitan cities in the United States, grow up with access to professional children’s theatre. There are 2.3 million kids under the age of eighteen in L.A. County, and, for most, a trip to an Imagine Theatre production would be their first visit to the theatre. One of IT’s objectives is to create a new rite of passage for kids in our city—going to the theatre—building not only tomorrow’s patrons, but also tomorrow’s generation of leaders and innovators.” - Co-founder Alex Zonin.

VISION

The role of live theatre is indispensable to shaping the way our children connect to each other and the rest of society. Through the stories we tell and the communal experience of theater, we imagine a future guided by kind and courageous people who have the motivation and inner resources to make the world a better place.
